The project involves the design and construction of a new plant, which will provide secondary sewage treatment services to a population of about 200,000 residents of three municipalities and two First Nations on the North Shore. The plant will be situated on a 3.5-hectare site located on West 1st between Pemberton and Philip Avenues in the District of North Vancouver.

On April 5, 2017, Metro Vancouver awarded the contract to ADAPT (Acciona Infrastructure) at a cost of C$525 million.

Torys represented the lenders with a team that included Tara Mackay, Simon Williams, Josh Van Deurzen and Min Kim.
